Nawahi's Remains.

The citizens of Lahaina paid their last respects to the late Nawahi in proper manner. Large numbers of people dressed in deep mourning gathered upon the arrival of the Kinau and later on when the Mokoli arrived. It was understood that the remains of the deceased would be on one of the vessels. The Hawaii carrying Nawahi's body arrived during the night. As soon as the circumstances were reported the mourners streamed to the dock and the boys immediately placed their services free of charge to the crowd that desired to pay their respects to the late statesman. Many boatloads of loyalists were carried to the steamer and when the Hawaii left Lahaina the casket containing the remains of Nawahi was covered with the floral offerings of the admirers as Hawaii's patriot.

Long May He Live.

Mr. and Mrs. Giovanni Long entertained last Saturday a large number of guests at a luau given at their Maunaloa residence. The anniversary of the birth of young Kenneth Long was the immediate occasion of the festivities. The "ahaaina" was one of the most elaborate ever seen in Honolulu and was attended by a number of leading people.

Her Majesty Liliuokalani and many prominent society people were present during the evening. Several distinguished foreigners now visiting the islands were invited and thoroughly enjoyed their first experience of a Hawaiian luau. Young Kenneth Long has the best wishes of THE INDEPENDENT for many happy returns of his natal day.

IN MEMORIAM.

The Deeds of Dead Lawyers Remembered by the Bar.

Eulogies and Resolutions for the Late Judge Austin and the Patriot Nawahi—Pertinent Remarks by the Chief Justice and Others.

At 10 o'clock this morning the Supreme Court and the members of the Bar met to pay the last sad official rites of honoring the memories of two of its distinguished members who have passed on to appear before the Supreme Tribunal of Eternity.

On the Bench were the Chief Justice A. F. Judd, and Associate Justices Frear and Whiting.

Judges Perry, Carter and Rosa sat with the members of the Bar, among whom were present the Minister of Foreign Affairs and Ex-Judge, Cooper, Ex-Judges Magoon and Kepoikai, the Attorney-General W. O. Smith, Deputy Attorney E. P. Dole, W. R. Castle, Cecil Brown, L. A. Thurston, A. G. M. Robertson, C. Creighton, G. K. Wilder, Mr. Stanley and about twenty other members of the Bar, including Police Judge De La Vergne.

The Attorney-General, in a few well chosen words, informed the Court of the desire of the Bar Association to present resolutions in regard to the demise of Judge S. L. Austin, and introduced Gardner Wilder as the mover of them.

Mr. Wilder read the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to take from amongst us the Hon. Stafford L. Austin, Judge of the Circuit Court for the Third and Fourth Judicial Circuits, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Judge Austin the community has lost an honored citizen, and the Judiciary of the Republic a conscientious, humane, and fearless Judge.

Resolved, That we sincerely mourn his loss, and that we extend to the family our sympathy in their bereavement.

Resolved, That we move that these resolutions be spread upon the records of this Court.

G. K. WILDER,
E. P. DOLE,
J. K. KAULIA.

Mr. Wilder feelingly spoke to the resolutions, stating that the late Judge was honored by all who knew him for his honest, upright, and conscientious administration of the law, especially as an honest man in all his dealings in private and public life, and as one of the pioneers of the Hawaiian Bar.

The Attorney-General seconded the resolutions and informed the Court that resolutions would be presented by Mr. Kaulia in regard to the death of Hon. J. Nawahi.

Mr. Kaulia presented the following:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Almighty to remove from our midst the Hon. J. K. Nawahi, a member of the Hawaiian Bar.

Resolved, That in the death of Mr. Nawahi the Bar, and Hawaii-nei, has lost one of its most esteemed members and truest friends.

Resolved, That we hereby express to the family of the deceased our sincere sympathy in their sorrow.

Resolved, That this Court be requested to spread these resolutions upon its records.

J. K. KAULIA,
W. S. EDINGS,
E. JOHNSON.

Mr. Kaulia spoke briefly and to the point in Hawaiian (interpreted by Luther Wilcox), and the resolutions were seconded by the Attorney-General.

W. R. Castle then eloquently spoke of the dead Judge as a man of character, and of the highest honor and integrity. He reached his decisions by purity of purpose and not by legal technicalities. He referred to Nawahi as a young man (when he first knew him) as a teacher of no ordinary ability, and in his political life he was supremely honest in his purpose. He was actuated by a love for the Hawaiian people and for their advancement. He honored him for his steadfastness of purpose.

E. P. Dole, Charles Creighton, Alfred Magoon, and W. L. Stanley appropriately contributed their endorsements of the qualities of the past members of the Association.

Hon. L. A. Thurston, then spoke frankly and touchingly a few words in praise of Nawahi and their joint political associations. Nawahi's memory would be honored for the fact that he and G. W. Pilipo stood prominently forward as incorruptible members of the many Legislatures in which they had represented their constituents. No one could dethrone Nawahi from the love of his people. His principles were based in honor and against corrupt and improper influences. His love of country was such that he sacrificed personal advancement and wealth to them. He was one of the most striking and picturesque men in Hawaiian history, and his memory should ever be honored and cherished by the Hawaiian race for whom he sacrificed so much.

The Chief Justice, in a quiet, dignified conversational manner won easily the oratorical honors of the occasion. He referred to the late Judge as the oldest son of an attorney who from the laboring ranks rose to position in Buffalo, N. Y., and passed on his main characteristics of honesty and indefatigable energy under difficulties to his son. He spoke of the early positions occupied by the Judge when he was the practical Governor of the Island in the early days; of the love of family possessed by the Austins; of the Judge's faithful labors in later days. He was an upright, honest and faithful man in all his dealings, and was the sole survivor, except perhaps Judge Hitchcock of the Bar of the "fifties." The earliest of the survivors date from the next decade. In regard to Nawahi, he was very fond of him. In his youth he was usually bright, but it was not within his capacity to construct laws or rules for the guidance of his country. He was incorruptible. No money ever went into his pocket dishonestly. He will be remembered not so much as a lawyer, but as a born orator who faithfully and fearlessly believed in doing the best for the ascendancy of his race whether he happened to be absolutely in the minority or not.

The resolutions were then formally ordered to be placed on the records of the Court.
